SHORT DESCRIPTION · 34 WORDS

Ready to publish.

Orgasmaphoria is a consent-centered adult platform where people can explore pleasure, intimacy, and connection through thoughtful education, original writing, music, research, practical resources, and community—without stigma or shame.

STANDARD BOILERPLATE

For articles and listings.

Founded by Amanda and Peter, Orgasmaphoria brings education and creativity into one evolving adult platform. Its public resources include interactive guides, a neutral lexicon, an in-depth Kink Catalog, articles and erotica, research and resource directories, O4Ria music, and curated event discovery. Consent, respect, curiosity, and inclusivity guide the work.

THE STORY

One persistent question became a platform.

During a Comic-Con weekend with friends, Amanda and Peter watched people share lived experiences with humor, creativity, and openness. It prompted a question: why was there no similarly welcoming place for adults to talk about pleasure, intimacy, and desire?

Orgasmaphoria grew from that question. The founders describe themselves as enthusiastic partners, learners, and facilitators—not clinicians or universal authorities. Their work brings science, lived experience, story, sound, and practical reflection into conversation while keeping consent and individual agency visible.

“Pleasure is not the destination. It’s the path.”

— Orgasmaphoria

AMANDA

Empathy and intuition.

Amanda brings emotional intelligence, lived experience, empathy, and intuition to Orgasmaphoria's voice and creative direction.
